SKIN DISEASE

CURED BY

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Mr. Geo. W. Burtner, Keokuk, Ia., writes, as follows:

"Shortly after leaving college, I was troubled with a skin disease which showed itself, first, at the ankles. Physicians pronounced it eczema, and treated me for that complaint. The eruption crept slowly up my limbs, and on the body, until it enveloped the whole frame. It gave me infinite trouble with constant itching, casting off dry scales, and a watery liquid which would exude from under the scales. I treated it for over three years unsuccessfully, and was unable to check it, until I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I used three bottles of this medicine and was completely cured—my skin becoming as smooth and clear as before."

SECRETARY GRESHAM DEAD.

Succumbs to Pleurisy at His Hotel—Sketch of His Career.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Secretary of State Gresham died at 1:15 o'clock this morning at his rooms at the Arlington House. Although his recovery was practically abandoned when a severe chill occurred shortly before 6 o'clock, the most powerful heart stimulants known to medical science were injected periodically, and an infusion of normal saline solution was made through an open vein in the arm.
He recovered slightly, but owing to severe rigors shortly before 11 o'clock he began to fail rapidly and his vitality began to ebb. The three physicians saw that the end was near, and at 12 o'clock withdrew to the ante-room, leaving in the sick-room only the members of his family and the nurses.

Up to that time he had been conscious and talked at intervals.
His words were full of bravery.
He fully appreciated his condition and spoke words of hope and cheer to his stricken wife and daughter.
Sometimes his mind wandered slightly and went back to the days of long ago.

As the end approached his pulse became hardly perceptible. Gradually his eyes glazed and closed.
Mrs. Gresham, with noble and heroic fortitude, continued to read the words of the Gospel to her dying husband. Her daughter and son-in-law stood, with bowed heads, at the side of the couch. At 1:15 o'clock his breathing ceased; a peaceful shadow passed over his pale countenance, his pulse flickered and the sorrowing family was in the presence of death.

The tone of the dispatches since his illness began about May 1st has varied but his condition did not cause serious alarm among his friends. On the 27th, however, he was much worse, the disease having been pronounced acute pleurisy, and at 1:15 on the morning of the 28th he died. Mrs.
Gresham, who had been summoned from Chicago early in the Secretary's illness was present when he passed away as stated above.

Mr. Gresham was born in Harrison County, Indiana, March 17, 1832; he was admitted to the bar in 1852. He was elected to the State Legislature in 1860, but resigned to accept a commission in an Indiana regiment. Col. Gresham was severely wounded at Atlanta and received the brevet of major general of volunteers for his gallantry.
In 1869 he was appointed United States judge for the district of Indiana by President Grant, and in 1880 he was prominently mentioned for United States senator. In April, 1882, he resigned from the bench to become postmaster-general under President Arthur, and on the death of Secretary Folger in July, 1884, he was appointed United States judge for the seventh circuit, which office he held for some years.

In the Republican National Convention at Chicago in 1888 he received 123 votes on the third ballot for the presidential nomination.

Mr. Gresham was a staunch republican until the close of President Harrison's administration, when, with Wayne MacVeigh, who had been attorney-general under President Garfield, he startled the political circles of the United States by announcing his intention of throwing off the yoke and stumping the country in the interests of Cleveland. As a reward for his services Mr. Gresham was made secretary of state. MacVeigh received the appointment of minister to Italy.

As secretary of state Mr. Gresham has made decisions which have brought upon him harsh criticisms from friend and foe. In the Hawaiian matter he showed himself to be the champion of the ex-queen's side in the imbroglio.

Don. M. Dickinson, who was postmaster-general in the early part of the Cleveland administration, will succeed Mr. Gresham as secretary of state.

Superintendent Byrnes, for thirty-two years a member of the police force of New York and for fifteen years its most conspicuous officer, resigned on the 27th. The Board of Police Commissioners promptly accepted the resignation and appointed Chief Inspector Conlin to act as Chief of Police temporarily.

The Japanese have arrived off dying from a blood clot on the brain.

General James B. Swain, an old friend of Horace Greeley is dead.

A special to the Herald from Washington says: Rear Admiral Beardslee, commander in chief of the Pacific Station, now in Hawaiian waters with his flagship Philadelphia, has been ordered to return to the United States, if in his opinion the presence of two warships in Honolulu is unnecessary.

The Chronicle of the 28th has an editorial on a story that the Hawaiian royalists at one time were trying to negotiate a matrimonial alliance between Mrs. Dominis and a Japanese prince.

San Francisco will have a monster parade on the 4th of July.
The celebration will far exceed that skirts of Washington.

Oscar Wilde was convicted at his trial in London and sentenced to two years imprisonment.

The Supreme Court has denied a writ of habeas corpus in the cases of Eugene Debs and others, connected with railroad strikes in the United States.

In the case of a Chinaman who was refused landing in the United States, the Supreme Court to which body the matter was referred, refuses his petition and declares the Exclusion Act valid.

Some time ago I was taken sick with a cramp in the stomach, followed by diarrhoea. I took a couple of doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was immediately relieved. I consider it the best medicine in the market for all such complaints. I have sold the remedy to others and every one who uses it speaks highly of it. J. W. STRICKLER, Valley

A chance to get a

PAIR OF SHOES

—FOR—

Ten Minutes' Work!

The question among the business men of Honolulu is:

DOES

ADVERTISING PAY?

To solve the problem as well as to ascertain whether advertisements attract the attention of newspaper readers, we offer a pair of our best $5.00 shoes ($6.50 anywhere else) to the person who sends us, under the head of "Wanted," the cleverest advertisement of our shoes.
It must be original, concise, and to the point. It must not be longer than any ordinary want ad. found in the daily papers.

Advertisement to be written on one side of white paper and signed by the competitor's full name and address.
State the name of the paper in which you saw this notice and enclose your effort in an envelope marked:

McInerny's Shoe Store,

Honolulu.

Ad. Competition.

The attention of out-of-town subscribers is particularly called to this competition—We want your ad.

Honolulu competitors may drop their envelopes in the box just inside the store door.

Competition Closes at Noon, June 15, 1895.

Competent judges will decide who is entitled to the prize.
